

Terry Helps School Study

Richard D. Terry, of 21617 Paul Ave., a graduate student at the University of Southern California, recently assisted in adapting the economic law of supply and demand to geology. Terry and two other students helped Dr. Kenneth O. Emery use the analogy to explain the distribution of sediments in three Mexican bays in Baja, Calif. Dr. Emery revealed the findings of the recent study in a speech before the 20th International Geological Congress in Mexico City.

FIESTA PLANNERS . . . Irene Perez, 16, shows Eddie Lawrence, 14, a model of the decorated fishing boat which will be sponsored by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation in the 10th annual Fishermen's Fiesta boat parade Sept. 16. Eddie and Irene are among the group of teenagers from the Lomita area who are decorating the boat on the theme "Exploring the Sea Around Us Safely."

Fishing Fleet Gets Ready For Annual Celebration

San Pedro will don its gayest holiday mood Saturday and Sunday when more than 250,000 fun-loving spectators invade the Los Angeles Harbor Area for the 10th annual edition of the Fishermen's Fiesta. Festivities will get under way Friday evening with street dancing, fishermen's skill contests, folk dancing in native costumes, and other activities on Fishermen's wharf, build in tempo through Saturday, and come to a spectacular climax on Sunday with the colorful parade of decorated fishing boats and the picturesque blessing of the fleet ceremony. His Eminence James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles will officiate at traditional ceremonies invoking the blessing of the Almighty on the men of the Harbor fishing fleet who labor against great odds and many dangers to provide more than one-third of the nation's canned and fresh fish. Fred Seaton, Secretary of the Interior, will be honorary chairman and principal speaker at the Sunday dock program. Also on hand will be Mayor Norris Poulson, Supervisor Burton Chace, and City Council President John S. Gibson, as well as visiting dignitaries.

COURSE FOR PRINTERS . . . Vince Funario, Harbor Junior College instructor of Linotype mechanism, assembles a Linotype machine which students will disassemble and re-assemble as part of their course being offered at Harbor Tech this fall for the first time.

Among those attending the annual West Coast School for professional photographers at Santa Barbara recently was P. W. Crotty, local studio owner.

Sponsored by the California Professional Photographer's Assn., the school is being held at the Brooks Institute of Photography under the supervision of outstanding figures in the professional world.

"As in any other profession, it is necessary for photographers to periodically attend refresher courses in order to keep abreast of new developments in the rapidly expanding field of photography," Crotty said.

Local Pigeon Fanciers Enter Birds In Fair

Neva Rae Gersdorf, 1188 W. 223rd St. and Ray Peel, 22334 Main St., are among prominent Southern California pigeon fanciers exhibiting in the October 3-7, San Bernardino County Fair at Victorville.

Among premier departments is one of California's largest, most diversified minerals and mining shows; a unique hobby show; and floriculture display with arrangements emphasis on native materials. Farmers will hold educational conferences. There will be quarter midget auto races, an apple pie baking contest, daily cooking schools, and a host of other events. Southern California's top horseshoe pitchers will be on hand for a fair-time tournament, while model airplane hobbyists will gather for special competition on the grounds. Local horse races, professional vaudeville, a tractor rodeo, hay loading competition and an Elks sponsored barbeque are on other parts of the jam-packed, nearly week-long program.
